A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR TO ALL OUR READERS

Red Cross Returns Highest In County Since Year 1928

The Red Cross roll call in Franklin county, having been completed and with all returns in, the drive totals receipts of $8137 and a total membership of 6120. This is the highest amount since 1928 when the receipts were $8516.12. As printed in the Press of December 15, when our local chairman, A. P. Pitt, tabulated his report for Northfield, the figures revealed for this town, receipts of $571.06, which was a new high. Mount Hermon through Roy R. Hatch, chairman, reported receipts of $210. The list of the county towns and district shows amounts as follows:

Ashfield, $157.50; Bernardston, $98.88; Charlemont, $114.30; Colrain, $129.25; Conway, $79; Deerfield, $799.59; Erving, $38.90; Farley, $11; Gill, $25.89; Greenfield, $3082.54; East Hawley, $13.75; West Hawley, $8.40; Heath, $50.05; Leverett, $42.15; Leyden, $28.50; Millers Falls, $144; Mount Hermon, $210; Monroe Bridge, $49; Montague, $114.50; North Leverett, $19.75; New Salem, $42.80; Northfield, $571.06; Orange, $483.52; Riverside, $37.05; Rowe, $55; Shelburne Falls, $314.13; Buckland, $76; Shelburne Center, $78.50; Shutesbury, $36.25; South Deerfield, $170; Sunderland, $133.89; Turners Falls, $742.45; Warwick, $27.10; Wendell, $11.35; Whately, $123.60.

From the above list it will be seen that as might be expected Greenfield is first, followed by Deerfield as second, Turners Falls third and Northfield, fourth, followed by Orange, as fifth.

On a per capita basis, the receipts of Deerfield and Northfield lead in the county.

Ice Cutting Replica Exhibited At Hotel

During the Christmas holiday, there was exhibited at the Northfield Hotel a bas relief of a Vermont sugaring farm, complete in all detail, of which we spoke in a previous issue. Hundreds admired it. After Christmas, another bas relief was constructed showing up a proverbial ice-cutting scene on a pond on the farm of a New England Yankee. Again details were very complete, showing the ice as scraped and marked into blocks, with men prying it loose, ready for the harvesting. The scene was very complete and afforded an interesting study, again favorably commented upon. As in the former, Philip Porter was the artist.

Clear Cold Weather And Snowfall Greeted

Ideal weather for winter sports have prevailed since last week Saturday, when there was a snowfall which covered the ground and provided conditions for skiing and sleighing on back roads. There has been quite a little sunshine to temper the freezing cold, reported to have fallen below zero on the moonlight nights. All the ponds have been cleared and the ice is fine for skating. Large crowds visit the ponds and enjoy watching even if they are not on skates. Meanwhile the Northfield Seminary is cutting some very fine ice on Wamaker Pond clear and sound and about twelve inches thick. We have enjoyed a fine period of winter weather during the holiday season.

Eastern Star Elects Their 1940 Officers; Installation Later

On Wednesday evening of last week, in Masonic hall on Parker avenue, was held the annual meeting of the local chapter, Order of the Eastern Starr. There was a large attendance and after the transaction of regular business, the election was held which resulted in the naming of the following officers for the year:

Dorothy Pearson Bolton, worthy matron; Horace Bolton, worthy patron; Ruth Hulbert, associate matron; Dr. F. Wilton Dean, associate patron; Marion Given, secretary; Gladys Ellithorpe, treasurer; Ida Sheldon, conductress; Katherine Sheldon, associate conductress; Charles Streeter, trustee for three years.

Arrangements are being made to hold the ceremony of the installation on Wednesday evening, Jan. 31 in the Masonic hall.

The Town Caucus To Name Candidates For Town Offices

It is probable that the town caucus, to present nominations for the various elective town offices will be held on Wednesday evening, the 17th, at the town hall, and it is hoped that there will be a goodly number of our town voters in attendance to take due consideration and proper action. The terms of the following officials are expiring:

Town clerk, Josephine S. Haskell; treasurer, Charles F. Slate; selectmen, Fred A. Holton, F. Myron Dunnell and Hermon B. Fisher; assessor (1) Fred S. Merrifield; moderator, William F. Hoehn; tax collector, Charles F. Slate; school committee (1) Edgar J. Livingston; library trustees (2) Nellie M. Wood and William W. Coe; cemetery commissioner (1) Carlton W. Holton; tree warden, Dean Williams; constables (4) one vacancy, Harry M. Haskell, Herman A. Miner, Martin E. Vorce.

The Governors Greeting

Governor Leverett Saltonstall sent out his greetings to the people of Massachusetts as the old year passed and his message was filled with a deep sense of human appreciation. Beside extending well wishes to all he said:

"Might has become master of right throughout much of the world today. The ruthless abuse of power is robbing countless men, women and children of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"If personal happiness were more widely respected and sought, right would soon supplant might among nations and among men."

"The declining year is for reflection and renewal of faith. Events have proven to us the necessity for maintaining under the most distressing circumstances the uplift derived from that spiritual faith. From this comes strength for action in the new year; and action of the kind we in the United States pray for and expect, for the year ahead will be no more nor less than we shape it for ourselves."

California Coudens

At the town hall next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, the California Coudens will present a carnival fun, music, magic and mystery for the benefit of the senior class Washington trip fund. Lola Couden is a daughter of Dan Van Valkenburgh, formerly an employee of Mount Hermon school, and the wife of Doug Couden. She presents a Punch and Judy show in the evening's entertainment. Mr. Couden is manager of the company, which has come east after a tour of the western cities. He was formerly connected with the American Legion Drum Corps of Long Beach, Calif., and will give an exhibition of drumming and baton spinning.

The Youth Hostel Observes 5th Birthday

The Youth Hostel's Christmas reunion, brought nearly 200 hostellers to Northfield to celebrate the fifth birthday of the organization last week, and to meet fellow hostellers who had traveled with them on various trips.

Colored movies taken by Clement Motten, of the Forman School, of Litchfield, Conn., leader of last summer's AYH sponsored trip to the Balkans, delighted the audience on Wednesday evening of last week. The pagentry of the peoples of Yugoslavia celebrating a religious festival in Ljubljana, and the beauty and richness of that part of Central Europe, contrasted with the black and whites of the skiing pictures of Switzerland.

Congratulatory messages to the AYH, sent by hostellers in many parts of the country were read by Isabel Smith, national co-director, who welcomed the guests.

On New Year's eve colored movies of Guatemala and of skiing in the Chilean Andes were shown, through the courtesy of Tom Willard of New York City, and of Stanton J. Robbins. Folk dancing and singing ushered in the New Year.

Quite a number of our young people attended the watch night services at the Congregational church New Years eve under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society.

REGISTRARS TO SIT

The Board of Registrars of the town will hold sessions at the town hall on Saturday, Jan. 13 from 7 to 9 p. m. and on Wednesday, Jan. 24 from 12 noon to 10 p. m. This will be the only opportunity for persons to register as voters previous to the annual meeting of the town on Monday, Feb. 5.

Christmas Illumination Was Not So Extensive

A careful survey of the various portions of our town made on Christmas eve and also on New Years eve, revealed that while there was more or less illumination of homes, especially inside, there was not the usual public decoration as was noticeable last year. A few notable decorations noticed this year was the flood lighting of the home of Dr. Richard and Miss Marion Holton, the lighted tree at Valley Vista Inn, the illumination at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wright, Bronson Inn, the home of Carl Mason, the home of Dr. A. N. Thompson, Sunset Inn at the Farms, and a few homes on Highland avenue. The beautiful tree on the seminary campus and at the Northfield hotel proved very attractive during the evenings throughout the season.

Many Make Visits

Many of the folks connected with the youth hostel spent the holidays at home or with friends. Miss Perry Graham of the book-keeping department visited relatives in Columbus, Ohio, for ten days; David Elkinton of the same department spent a week with his family in Moylan, Penn. Miss Helen Conley, public relations department, spent a week in Irvington, Ky., with her mother. Peasele Bond, of the supply department, visited with his family in Clarksboro, N. J. Miss Constance Warner met her Oberlin, Ohio, family in Hartford, Ct.

Other staff members who left Northfield for the holidays were: Miss Margaret Dean, to her home in Lincoln; Miss Helen Detweiler, to her home in New York City; Miss Marion Kumin, to her home in Athol; Jack Hanna to his home in Goshen, Ct.; Miss Faith Owers and Miss Virginia Mahring to Miss Owers' home in New Haven, Ct.; Miss Edna Grodman and Miss Martha B. Hoagland to New York City where they visited relatives.

Nearly all returned to Northfield to usher in the New Year at the youth hostel party.

Alliance To Meet

Mrs. J. V. McNeil invites the women of the Alliance of the Unitarian church to be her guests in her home for the next meeting Thursday, Jan. 11 at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. H. M. Haskell and Mrs. Fred Irish assisting her. This will be an especially interesting meeting with Mrs. Charles Webster, Mrs. Mary Holton and Miss Emma Alexander presenting the theme, "Great Unitarian Hymn Writers." The year's "Giving Again Coin Cards" filled, are to be turned in.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Life would be so full and free
If you and I should really be
A sun to cheer some pathway dim.
A happy song, a prayerful hymn.
A ray of hope to those in sorrow.
Some joy and comfort they may borrow;
A silver lining to each cloud.
A stilling voice amidst the crowd;
A stalwart staff, the very best,
On which some weary soul may rest;
A light, a burning candle flame,
To guide someone bowed down with shame;
A rainbow shining through each shower,
A living faith, each day, each hour;
How wholly worthwhile life would be,
If this were true of you and me.
—Frances E. Walker
Northfield

A number of our local folks spent the New Years eve in Brattleboro. Some went to the celebration at the Brooks hotel, others to the dance at Latchis new ball room and others to the theatres.

It is said that "the wheels of the Gods grind slowly, but surely." They have ground cruelly during the past year and history will record the facts on the pages of time. Humanity has suffered and from the memory of this generation will never be erased the picture of world events as they have affected us. May our hope and faith be so sufficient that the new year will bring promise of better and brighter prospects.

Fortnightly Women Enjoy Hobbies Today

The meeting of the Fortnightly this Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock will prove a most interesting session, interesting because there will be quite a showing of "hobbies" by members under the direction of a committee of which Miss Maud Hamilton is chairman. From all accounts the display will prove that the women of this town are active in collections of various articles. The Press hopes that a complete list of all exhibits will be made and reported fully in our next issue.

American Legion

The regular monthly meeting of the Northfield American Legion was held last Friday evening. The post following its usual custom issued gifts and greetings to the children of deceased veterans. The Legion's wish to all its comrades and friends, health and happiness for the coming new year.

Ends Gas Sales

The gasoline equipment in front of the drug store of Harry A. Lewis was removed this week as Mr. Lewis will not continue in this part of his business. The removal and discontinuance of sales leaves a more open appearance to the attractiveness of the drug store.

The "California Coudens" who will furnish the evening's entertainment in the town hall next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Senior High School Washington trip fund. Mrs. Couden was the former Miss Loella Van Valkenburgh of Gill.

SCHOOLS REOPEN

Students at the Seminary and at Mount Hermon school have returned to their studies and the buildings on the campus which have been darkened during the holiday vacation, now blaze again with light. It's a welcome sight to note the activity and the mingling of the young folks. Our own young people who were at home for the holiday vacation from other schools of learning, cheered us with their presence. We are all back to normal as we start the New Year. The local public schools are also again in session.

Haigis Is Named A Trustee Of MSC

Announcement was made on Wednesday that John W. Haigis had been appointed a trustee of Mass. State college by Gov. Saltonstall. He will succeed John P. Gannon, whose term expires. Other trustees from Franklin county are Philip F. Whitmore of Sunderland and David J. Malcolm of Charlemont.

Northfield Grange

The next regular meeting of the Northfield Grange will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 10, when officers for 1940 will be installed by Rep. Fred B. Dole of Shelburne. The change in date was made to accommodate Mr. Dole, who could not be present Tuesday evening.

A dance was held last night (Thursday) at the Grange hall. Mrs. Clara Hale was chairman of the committee in charge. Conn. Valley Pomona Grange will meet Wednesday morning, at 10:30 at Guiding Star Grange hall, Greenfield. Installation will take place after dinner, which will be served at 12 noon.

A Home Appearance

Mrs. Loella Couden of Gill will make her first local appearance as a performer this Friday night at the Gill town hall, when she and her husband present their new show, "A Carnival of Fun." While on his trip west last summer, Mrs. Couden's father, Dan Van Valkenburgh, visited the Coudens in Cheyenne, Wyo., where they were playing in the Frontier Days celebration. The Parent-Teachers association is sponsoring the entertainment Friday night, and will have refreshments on sale between the acts.

Farms Library Annual

The annual meeting of the Northfield Farms Library Association has been called for Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, January 6, to receive reports and choose officers and name committees. A resolve will be considered to enlarge the district in which the library operates to a line at the residence of Ernest Parker. The meeting is open to all residents of the present district who are voters in the town of Northfield and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

The Assessors Listing

Under the provisions of the law, the assessors of the town will begin immediately, the annual list of all residents. Calls will be made at all institutions, places of business and the homes to obtain the name, age, occupation and nationality of each person, as well as the places of residence on Jan. 1 of 1939. Every person, male and female, 20 years of age or over, whether a citizen or not, residing at the home will be listed. This information should be readily given to the assessor and there is a fine for refusing to give information.

Change Station Agent

Fay C. Lyman who has been the station agent of the Central Vermont railroad in Northfield has been transferred to Palmer in a similar capacity. His place here is taken by G. A. Smith from the Brattleboro staff.

Mrs. William A. White of Brattleboro has returned to her home after a visit with friends in Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Mathewson.

Money Is Needed For Finnish Relief; Have You Helped?

The appeal for funds for relief for the people of Finland made in the Press, in the last two issues, has brought a response, but more contributions are needed. The local appeal is part of the effort of the National Finnish Relief committee, headed by former President Herber Hoover, who has already sent over $300,000 to Finland, collected up to Dec. 24 by 220 of the 1200 newspapers in all parts of the country that helped father the fund.

The former President stressed in an announcement that of every dollar donated to the fund "100 cents goes to Finland," with administrative costs being met by private subscription.

Pending the formation of a local committee, Mrs. Walter Hyde will act as treasurer and local contributions may be left with her at the Bookstore. Northfield's gifts will be sent to headquarters this week.

TOWN TOPICS

Word has been received by friends that both Mrs. Frank N. Ray and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Scanlon of East Providence have been very ill. They were recently sojourners at their summer home here.

William Carr of New York City recently spent a holiday vacation here with his father, George W. Carr of Winchester road.

Miss Emma Alexander is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Crowe at Wellesley, and attended the wedding of Mrs. Crowe's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Sullivan to Glenn Goodspeed on the 27th of December. The newly married couple visited here with Mrs. Josephine Webster and Mr. and Mrs. Goodspeed, while on their wedding journey.

The Ladies Missionary society of the Congregational church met with Mrs. Fred A. Holton at her home on Highland avenue on Wednesday.

Leon Dunnell visited Boston recently to witness "Gone With The Wind" and says that it is a wonderful picture.

Harry Gingras spent the New Year holiday in New York City and was accompanied by his brother Hiram Gingras of Rutland.

Miss Jean Geibel has been at her home, with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Geibel for the holidays.

Miss Gladys Rikert has been at her home here for the holidays from her studies at Syracuse university.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Powell, with their daughter, Virginia and sons, who have been at Green Pastures during the Christmas holidays have returned to their home at Lewiston, Me., where Mr. Powell is publicity director for Bates college. Virginia returns to Mt. Holyoke college in another week.

Mrs. Bertha Rikert of Birnam road entertained the teachers and officers of the Congregational church Sunday school at her home Tuesday evening.

Miss Sophie Servaes spent the Christmas season with her parents at their home in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burgess of Hanover, N. H., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Barrows over the New Year holiday.

The many friends of Seth Field were pleased to greet him upon his recent short visit at his home here. He found it necessary to get back to his work at Gloversville where he is connected with a chain of theatres.

Income tax forms are now available and will be sent to all who made out returns for the year 1938. All persons whose income measures up to the present requirements must make returns. Both Federal and State income tax return blanks are available.

Local citizens and summer residents who visited Lake Winnepesaukee during the summer season and enjoyed a ride about the lake on the Steamer Mt. Washington, will miss the privilege next season as the boat was destroyed by fire at her dock at the Weirs, N. H. on the night of Dec. 22.

Miss Alice Drake of North Plainfield, N. J. spent the New Year's holiday at the Northfield Hotel and greeted many of her friends here.

Mrs. William J. McRoberts of Brooklyn, N. Y. came to Northfield for a holiday visit previous to going to Florida to spend the winter. Many friends called upon her to extend her greetings while at the hotel.

The snow which fell last week Friday night, blanketed everywhere and the trees looked like a fairy land, on Saturday morning. The arrival of the snow and more moderate weather gave a noted impetus to the enjoyment of all sports.

Several of our local sportsmen expect to attend the annual banquet of the Greenfield Beagle club at the Mansion House on Wednesday evening, Jan. 25. Nearly all the 250 tickets have been sold.

I'll Take
Pudding!

By Frances Lee Barton

A good recipe makes a good pudding. A good pudding makes a good dessert. A good dessert is a good finish to a good meal. Here is your good recipe. The rest is up to you!

Chocolate
Masquerade
Pudding

2 squares unsweetened chocolate; 3 cups of milk; ½ cup sugar; 4 tablespoons cornstarch; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 egg white; 4 tablespoons sugar; ¼ cup shredded coconut.

Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, cornstarch, and salt; add small amount of chocolate mixture, stirring until smooth; return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add small amount of mixture to egg yolks, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add vanilla and turn into greased baking dish. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout; add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Pile lightly on chocolate mixture and sprinkle with coconut. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until delicately browned. Serves 6.

Stenog.: Your little girl wants to kiss you over the phone.
Busy Manager: Take the message. I'll get it from you later.

Dumb: This liniment makes my arm smart.

Bell: Why not rub some on your head?

Hobo: Won't you hel pa poor, crippled man?

Victim: You look healthy enough. In what way are you crippled?

Hobo: Financially.

Clara: Why did the air corps turn down Frank?

Jimmie: On account of his eyes.

Clara: Why, I think his eyes are lovely!

What's in a
Name?

By Frances Lee Barton

THE recipe below is called "Chocolate Cottage Pudding," but to me "Chocolate Mansion Pudding" would be equally appropriate. The pudding is economical enough to be served in the most humble cottage but delicious enough to grace the table of our most elaborate mansion.

Chocolate Cottage Pudding

1½ cups sifted cake flour; 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1 cup sugar; 2 egg yolks, well beaten; 1½ squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; ¼ teaspoon vanilla; ½ cup milk; 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream well. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly; then chocolate and vanilla. Add flour, alternately with milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Fold in egg whites. Turn into greased pan, 8x8x2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (325° F.) 50 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan. Serve warm or cold with plain or whipped cream. Serves 12.

Editor: Have you ever read proof?
Applicant: No, sir; who wrote it?

There is a bit of good, sound philosophy in the following sign recently observed in a Chinese laundry:

You want credit,
Me no give,
You get sore.
You want credit,
Me give,
You no pay,
Me get sore;
Better you get sore.

Daughter (ecstatically listening to radio program of swing music): Did you ever hear anything so perfectly wonderful?

Father: No, I can't say I have; although I once heard a collision between a truckload of empty milk cans and a freight car filled with live ducks.

I bought a wooden whistle,
But it wooden whistle.
I bought a steel whistle,
But steel it wooden whistle.
I bought a lead whistle
And steel they wooden led me whistle.

I bought a tin whistle,
And now I tin whistle.

"The Town Forest" We Ought To Know Of The Movement

Commemorating the 25th anniversary of the establishment of town forests in Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Forest and Park Association has published a report upon the movement which summarizes the history and progress of the municipal woodland idea.

"There can be no doubt," declares Harris A. Reynolds, secretary of the Association and author of the report, "that the town forest has become a very important part of the conservation movement in the United States. In Massachusetts alone, more than 200,000 acres of forest lands are municipally owned. This is a large acreage than the total area occupied by the state forests."

"Actually there are now 107 towns and cities who have placed their woodlands under the Town Forest Act—thus obtaining for themselves the advantages offered by the Act, including such things as free trees for planting.

"Most of these 107 town forests are fairly new and no fair valuation of them can be attempted now other than to point out that they are, in most cases, already saving tax funds by supplying firewood for welfare families and producing lumber, posts, poles and young trees and shrubs for plantings along the highways as well as furnishing employment for citizens.

"A few of the town forests, however, are already sufficiently well established to indicate what valuable possessions a town or city can have in municipally owned woodland. Westfield, for example, with a town forest of 5701 acres, is not merely protecting and assuring its water supply but it is beginning to cash in on timber and other forest material produced. Within three decades this should pay into the city treasury a net profit of about $20,000. The town of Russell has a 3,000 acre municipal forest which promises a net profit of about $5 per acre annually. This forest should eventually pay into the town treasury some $15,000 annually. Since Russell's 1938 tax assessment was $38,000, this means that the profit from its forest should, when ready to harvest, reduce the tax levy by about 40 per cent.

"Many other towns and cities report similar progress and a large percentage of the town forests already pay their own way. Groton's town forest, for example, has been self-supporting from the start while Carlisle has not only paid for planting and thinning, but has $600 cash in the treasury, all from the sale of forest products. The Carlisle forest is now well stocked with valuable timber trees and within a generation will be cutting the tax rate of the town considerably.

"However," Mr. Reynolds concludes, "the Town Forest Act is not yet fully appreciated. Many towns and cities have watershed lands, idle farms taken for taxes, poor farms and other areas suitable for forests which could be placed under the Town Forest Act to the great benefit of the citizens. The Massachusetts Forest and Park Association is devoting itself to advancing the town forest movement, having initiated this movement in this country 25 years ago, and is planning an active campaign in the field for 1940."

Copies of the town forest quarter century report, which is made available by the Augustus Hemenway Memorial Forest Fund, established last year by Mrs. Harriet L. Hemenway, may be obtained free upon application to the Massachusetts Forest and Park Association, 3 Joy Street, Boston. Copies will be distributed as long as the limited supply lasts.

Northfield ought to know something more about this town forest movement.

MY PRAYER

God, let me live each lovely day,
So I may know that, come what may,
I've done my best to live the way
You want me to.
Forgive me if I do not pray
The ultra-sanctimonious way
In church on every Sabbath day,
As some folks do.
Just let me know if I should stray,
That I may stop along the way
At any time of night or day
And talk with you.

Hosteling In Denmark Has Marked Success

With the thunderstorm of war having broken over Europe, individuals everywhere are beginning to look around for some ray of light to buoy their melancholy spirits. The youth hostel movement is an international one, organized for the purpose of bringing the young folks of the world, who gather in comradely fashion around the hostel hearths where antipathies and differences of opinion are seen and discussed in a straightforward manner. The hostellers of the world could settle its problems, and some day these young folks will be called upon to do so.

The American Youth Hostels feels that this is an appropriate time to publish some information about the youth hostels of the world. For this purpose this series of articles which will delve into the backgrounds and histories of the youth hostels associations is being released. Let us turn to Denmark, that land of dairy farms and low green hills, and discover some of the facts of youth hosteling there.

In no other country in the world are there so many bicycles in proportion to the number of the population, and the very natural reason for this is that Denmark is the ideal country for cycling. Businessmen ride to and from their offices, housewives carry their market baskets on the handlebars, school boys and girls cycle gaily to and from school, and mothers take their little ones out for airings by placing them in baskets or trailers. It is not uncommon to see whole families riding jollily together, the mother and father swinging rhythmically along with hands on each others' shoulders, babes in baskets, and younger ones peddling rapidly after them. Some very amusing combinations of bicycles and carts are seen in Denmark designed to carry three or four people.

There are hills in Denmark, but none more steep than to afford pleasure in riding up them, in order to view the smiling landscape from the top, to coast down the other side. A typical boulevard in Denmark is swarmed with bicycles instead of automobiles; this has made necessary the building of many charming bicycle trails.

The purpose of the Youth Hostel Association in Denmark is to spread healthy rambling and cycling in Denmark and to support young people in their endeavors to travel cheaply. It believes that it is good influence in creating a healthy, capable youth. It also assists young people from abroad during their journeys in Denmark, thereby promoting international amity, and, of course, it founds and opens youth hostels. Sixty hostels were opened in 1930, its initial year, and today there are two hundred hostels on the peninsula and island.

The Danish hostel customs are similar to ours. There is no smoking and drinking in the hostels and early retiring and rising hours are customary. The hostels, located about fifteen miles apart, are homey, clean, and practical. The capacity of the hostels ranges from ten beds to two hundred. These hostels are opened to youth for only 12 cents an overnight.

The organization in Denmark is a little different from that of the majority of other countries, for in Denmark there are two youth hostel associations which, however, work closely together. The first association is an amalgamation of thirty-two youth organizations. Because these organizations did not wish to issue membership cards except for members of their own organizations, a second association was formed for this purpose.

Both associations were formed in 1930 and are going to celebrate their Jubilee this year. There are today 200 youth hostels in Denmark. The association, besides establishing and inspecting the hostels, organizes sponsored trips into various countries and through Denmark itself. Last year they planned sixty trips in addition to thirty parties to England. Five groups were going as far as Italy, and one group of about forty came to America.

For some time the Danish association has been trying to obtain reduced prices on the liners to America, but the war has postponed the consummation of this effort.

Last year there were 51,000 passholders in Denmark, and 30,000 hostel overnights.

West Northfield and South Vernon

Mrs. Alfred Holton has been confined to the house recovering from a recent heart attack.

Schools in West Northfield reopened this week. The Vernon schools do not open until next Monday. Miss Blanche Bushey of the Pond school is at her home in Vermont.

Miss Lucile Bolton has returned to her studies at Green Mountain Junior college at Poultney.

The South school P. T. A. held a business meeting Tuesday evening after which there was a program of readings, games, violin solos and saxophone solos, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Holton. Popcorn balls were served.

Rev. William W. Coe of Northfield will be the preacher at the South Vernon church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Sunday school at 11:45. The evening service will be under the direction of the young people of the church with Miss Hazel Tenney as speaker.

A daughter was born on Christmas day at the Brattleboro Memorial hospital, to Joseph F. and Grace (Johnson) Austin of Brattleboro, granddaughter to Mrs. Walter D. Johnson of South Vernon.

Rev. Ellis E. Jones is one of the speakers assisting in conducting "The University of Life—An Adventure in Christian Living." A series of discussion periods being held Jan. 7 to Feb. 12 through the co-operation of the churches of Greenfield.

Mrs. Frank Lackey is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Harrington in West Springfield.

Miss Alma Dunklee has been spending a few days at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. S. Tenney in Northfield Farms.

The annual meeting of the South Vernon Advent Christian church was held Tuesday afternoon. The following officers were elected: Ernest W. Dunklee, clerk; A. A. Dunklee, treasurer; Rev. F. H. Leavitt and Leroy Barnes, deacons; Mrs. F. H. Leavitt and Mrs. A. H. Farnum, deaconesses; Mrs. F. H. Leavitt, auditor; A. A. Dunklee, Rev. Leavitt and R. C. Allen trustees; Mrs. Ralph Gibson, Mrs. George Day and Mrs. A. H. Farnum, flower committee; Warren Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dunklee, soliciting committee; Ernest Dunklee, Mrs. Ralph Gibson and Mrs. Leavitt, music committee. It was left for the mission society to select the social committee. The matter of choosing a pastor was discussed and left with a committee comprised of A. A. Dunklee, Ernest Dunklee, Rev. Leavitt and Leroy Barnes. Several recent gifts to the church were announced including $25 from the mission society and $6 from the junior mission society and contributions from out-of-town people.

EDITORIAL

The fact that a Greenfield paper is defendant in a $50,000 libel action, shows how necessary it is that a paper be careful in putting into public print that which may be in error. Not that a paper really intends to do so, for no Editor wishes to print anything but the truth as he sees it. Mistakes may happen but they are never intentional and in a lifetime of newspaper service and experience, the Editor of the Press, has never known of a real malicious article intending to blast one's character and reputation. Much information comes from individuals, correspondents, and publicity sources and statements made are accepted as facts. It is therefore necessary for all informants to sign their name to item furnished as evidence of good faith.

Governor Murphy of New Hampshire, a Republican, lashed out at the leadership of the Republican party, urging it to purge itself of "unhealthy leadership" and to "return the party to the common people." He was addressing the Worcester County Republican club and waxed warm in his admonitions and criticism. He urged that useless criticism be abandoned and that the party establish itself upon records of achievements. Many members of the Republican party have frequently expressed themselves as dissatisfied with present leadership and are hoping for a new affirmation of principles and a new determination toward success based upon such a goal. The Republican party has a "come-back" if its leaders will but heed the appeal of its "rank and file"—the common folks who give it their support.

Back Yard Gardener

As I mentioned last week, garden catalogs are in the mails, so it won't be long now before we will be starting plants either indoors or in a hotbed. If you don't have a hotbed, you will need some sort of seed flats and also some place to keep them. Hence, it might be well to check over and see that everything is in tip-top shape.

Cigar boxes in my estimation are about right for the first planting of choice flower seeds and vegetables seeds. You can let the seedlings get two or three inches high in these and then transplant them to larger boxes or into small flower pots and then by the time they have outgrown those, it will be time for planting outdoors. At least time to set the plants out in the cold frame where you can gradually harden them off.

A mighty useful gadget I have found when it comes to sowing seeds indoors is a small sieve made of ordinary screen. You can make this yourself by having a little box with no bottom and then covering one side with ordinary door screen. The particular use for this screen or sieve is to cover seeds in your seed flats.

Press the soil down firmly in the flat; use a small piece of board for this. Then make tiny rows with a lead pencil or a match. Then instead of trying to cover the seed by filling in the rows, take your sieve and sift very lightly over the entire flat. This makes a very light covering over the seed and gives them all the protection they need, and at the same time leaves such a light covering that the seedlings can push up through without much trouble. I said to sow the seeds in rows, but that isn't necessary. They can be sown broadcast if you wish. The main point is to keep the soil fairly moist and not to cover the seeds more than a depth of twice the diameter of the seed.

It might be well to be getting together a good supply of soil for use in seed flats. A good preparation can be made by mixing one part of sand, two parts of garden loam, and one part of well rotted barnyard manure. Mix these thoroughly and put them through a coarse screen.

Once the flats are planted, set them in the sun. Cover them with a piece of wet newspaper and a pane of glass. By putting the water on to the newspaper you can wash your seed flats without washing the soil from the seeds. Of course just as soon as the seeds show signs of germinating the newspaper should be removed, and the glass should be removed as soon as the seedlings begin to hit the glass.

Most seed packages will give you some idea of how long it takes from seed planting to flowers, so you can plan your work accordingly. The main thing now is to get things set and be ready to go.

Now just one thing more. In case you are interested in growing annuals along with perennials and biennials, I am suggesting that you get hold of a publication issued last June by the Massachusetts State College at Amherst. It is leaflet No. 149, and the title is annual in the Garden. If you are a resident of Massachusetts, you may have a copy of this little publication free of charge by simply addressing a request to the Mailing Room, Mass. State College, Amherst, Mass.

TWISTING THE DIALS

With A. L. SIMON

1939 was a big year in radio. We can't hope to review everything in a few paragraphs but let's twist the dials backward this time.

The long-awaited television came into being last April 30 with lots of anxious eyes awaiting its debut at the World's Fair. Since the initial telecast there have been improvements in lighting, in equipment and programming. The average of two hours weekly which started telecasting has now been increased to fifteen hours.

Bigger than television in this reporter's estimation is the appearance of the Armstrong system of transmission and receiving—staticless radio. This new method, while still operating in the experimental field, will bear watching. It may yet revolutionize the broadcasting industry.

Technically, one other thing happened. Portable sets became the rage during the summer months and they were all over the beaches. This meant increased audiences for hot weather shows.

The year, surprisingly, didn't bring any startling program developments, nor were any sensational new stars brought to the front. Yet there was plenty of program activity. Major league baseball made its bow in N. Y. after a battle of many years. After a ten-year stretch, Rudy Vallee's Thursday show faded from the air. Script shows increased and figures from the networks show both chains carried more dramatic broadcast—than any other year. CBS is credited with 1783 hours and NBC with 1397.

News and special events came in for its share—brought about, of course, by the European situation. Outstanding in this connection were Hitler's addresses from Germany. Chamberlain's declaration of war, the broadcasts from the belligerent capitals, and more recently, Bowen's amazing description of the Graf Spee expedition. Programs which drew attention last year included the King's visit to this country, the rescue work at the Squalus, the death of the Pope and the inaugural ceremonies of the present Pontiff.

The past year, too, showed that radio is still expanding. CBS added 7 more stations increasing the Columbia chain to 118, and NBC added 20 outlets bringing their network to 181.

A Winter Shortcake

By Frances Lee Barton

EVEN though fresh fruits and berries have taken their leave, don't banish that delectable dessert, shortcake, from your table. For there are winter shortcakes as well as summer shortcakes. And among the prizes in the winter shortcake group is —

Apricot Coconut Shortcake
 2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1 cup sugar; 1 egg, unbeaten; ¼ cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla; ¼ cup cream, whipped; 2 cups drained apricots, cut in quarters; 1 can moist, sweetened coconut.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream together well. Add egg and beat very thoroughly. Add flour alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan, 8x12-inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. Split warm cake in half. Spread whipped cream over cut surface of one-half of cake; arrange 1 cup apricots on cream and sprinkle with ¼ can coconut. Adjust second layer, cut side down; and repeat garnish. Cut in squares and serve at once. Serves 9 to 12.

Canned peaches or pineapple, oranges, bananas, or other fruits may be substituted for apricots in this recipe.

Jake: What's the great hurry, old man?

John: I'm going to the airport to catch the 4:30 plane.

Jake: There's no hurry; it's only 3:30 now.

John: I know that, but I always have to figure on a few chumps stopping me to ask why I'm hurrying.
